

Geography

Volcanos

Today I would like you to research which volcano erupted on 23rd February 2021 and make a poster of all of the information you can find out about this.

Please bring this to school with you next week as you will use this information to support you when writing a newspaper report in English.

